

JULIE JORDAN

MERCY WOMAN OF THE YEAR

Each year, at the annual Swing for Mercy Golf Classic, the Catherine McAuley Center recognizes a woman who exemplifies the Mercy spirit of compassion and service through her own commitment to the mission of the Sisters of Mercy.

The Catherine McAuley Center takes great pride in honoring Julie Jordan as our 2022 Mercy Woman of the Year.

A native of Northeastern Pennsylvania, Julie is an active part of the local community, serving on the Catherine McAuley Center Board of Directors, and has cultivated long standing relationships with a number of non-profit organizations.

Many people know Julie as she has documented countless important moments and milestones through the lens of her camera for families and our local community over the years. Her commitment to helping women and children experiencing homelessness is a testament to her compassion for all those in need.

The Catherine McAuley Center provides housing and supportive services for individuals experiencing homelessness, primarily women and children, in Lackawanna and Luzerne counties.

Beyond the shelter of a roof and walls, the Center provides a wide range of services that help overcome the trauma of homelessness through education, life skills, and assistance in accessing counseling, employment, and training opportunities.
